By Will Wade

Connect Financial Software Solutions LLC of Las Vegas, a provider of online banking software for credit unions, has agreed to offer its clients bill-payment applications from iPay Technologies LLC.

iPay said the reselling agreement, which it announced Wednesday, covers its consumer and business bill-payment applications.

The Elizabethtown, Ky., company has called such deals a key to its strategy, and claims that it has more than 2,500 community bank and credit union clients and almost 1 million end users nationwide.

In October, it landed a contract with Jack Henry & Associates Inc., of Monett, Mo., which added more than 1,000 new community bank and credit union clients.
